DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claim 24 allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 10-23 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are: In Claims 10 and 20, the connection between the carbon nitride cap layer and the second dielectric constant is omitted. Claims 10 and 20 properly define the relationship between the “thin-film, low-k dielectric layer” and the first dielectric constant but fail to properly define relationship between the “carbon nitride cap layer located on the low-k dielectric layer” and the second dielectric constant.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claim 25 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kaeriyama (5,485,304) in view of Dessaux et al. (FR 2, 775,005)

Regarding Claim 25, Kaeriyama discloses support posts for micro-mechanical devices where in Fig. 2, it is disclose a landing yoke 21 configured to deflect in response to biasing, a mirror 14 coupled to landing yoke and a control bus 26 configured to bias the landing yoke. Kaeriyama fails to disclose the required carbon nitride coating for one of landing yoke/mirror/control bus combination. However, Dessaux et al. disclose a low friction, ultra hard, elastic carbon nitride coating for electronic, optical tribological applications where it is disclose a novel carbon nitride coating for lens and mirror application.

It would have been obvious to one of having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the required carbon nitride coating for one of landing yoke/mirror/control bus combination in Kaeriyama as taught by Dessaux et al. in order to have a semiconductor device with increased reliability.
